Dear Mr. Fernandez,

Many thanks for your recent letter and copy 'Arc'All'. We are busy reprinting at present but I will shortly see what issue we can spare to send you in exchange.

We have to delay this a bit as it is rather necessary, I regret, to inform you, that it is just not possible to give anyone copyright to print any of our articles at any time in random manner, or at all: save only, in one or two particular cases, if all our editors and the author is willing.

As you see from encl. leaflet we have <sup>15</sup>~~14~~ editors and I simply cannot give anyone permission for any article whatever in the manner you suggest.

Such permission is usually given in exceptional cases, and then only to the large established journals in the field. Especially in the case of articles from E. Europe, we cannot possibly agree to articles being printed in some particular new journal, without among other things knowing very precisely the nature of other articles appearing therein, as E. European authors are very sensitive for ideological reasons as to the material with which their articles is associated, and this could cause acute embarrassment.

In view of these complications, and also being heavily pressed for time without desiring additional work, I would prefer this matter to be dropped for the time being. You will appreciate you are suggesting this for a new periodical (I do not even know it's name!) of which the first issue is not ready--so it is clearly impossible for me to say anything about it.

~~Wm~~ Wolkowski's address is given above: Prof. J. Taylor:

Yours sincerely,
Benson Herbert
